

BANK OFFERS PREMIUM FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Sierra Madre district school bonds are regarded as a good investment by the Crown City Bank of Pasadena, judging by the premium of $400 offered by them on the $12,500 bond issue. The bid was made subject to legal approval of the validity of the issue. The district attorney's office has already passed on the proceedings so it is thought there will be difficulty in satisfying the bank's attorneys.

School bonds are almost always considered good and the small outstanding indebtedness of this district doubtless made the present issue look attractive, as well as the 5 1/2 per cent interest rate. The new issue makes the total debt of the district about $21,000 which bears an unusually low proportion to the assessed valuation of nearly $2,000,000.

With the sale of the bonds completed, the school trustees advertise this week for proposals for the building of the proposed additions to the public school plant. These include the auditorium building, domestic science cottage, kindergarten cottage, manual training shop and modern plumbing equipment. At the earliest possible date when work could be started it would be impossible to have all the improvements completed before the opening of school.

Will Have Kindergarten.

Establishment of a kindergarten department is assured, the necessary petition having been filed with the school trustees. A teacher has been secured for the department and work will begin as soon as the new quarters are ready for occupancy. Both the kindergarten and domestic science courses will be affected somewhat by the progress of the new buildings. Special teachers have been hired for both departments and the trustees are now facing the problem of giving the teachers a place to work.

School will open in all departments on September 21, the third Monday in the month. The main building has been equipped with screens throughout, which will add to the comfort of the pupils and be more sanitary.

SELLING MORE FORDS

Milton Steinberger has sold two Fords the past week, a roadster for delivery purposes to the Sierra Madre Hardware Company, and a touring car for delivery purposes to Jack Richey. Milt reports that other live prospects indicate more sales soon. The promise of a substantial rebate to Ford buyers provided the year's sales amount to 300,000 cars has also stimulated interest and will make every Ford buyer a salesman. In spite of all the fun that has been poked at them the Ford cars have come into their own and the only thing that worries a great many people is the fact that they see no prospect of owning one.

Home of Truth

"The Coming Age" is the subject of the discourse Sunday, August 16, at 3:30 p. m. at the Home of Truth, corner Auburn and Carter. Everyone cordially welcome. Harriet C. Hamor conducting services.

"God breathed into man the breath of life and man became a living soul," Genesis 2:7. To that spark of divinity in everyone, all people of all nations, especially those in power, we send this message called the Sunrise Blessing.

For the month of August, "The great Oversoul covers you and fills you with desire and power to do always that which is pure and honorable, wise and just, loving and true." Amen. "Peace be unto you."

Let us each send this prayer forth that it may bring peace.

Six Rules to Observe to Prevent Disastrous Fires in the Mountains*RULES TO PREVENT MOUNTAIN FIRES

Precautions of the simplest kind would eliminate most of the loss resulting from forest fires, as shown by reports on the causes of the fires in the reserves last season.

Much could be accomplished by observance of the following six simple rules:

1. Be sure your match is out before you throw it away.
2. Knock out your pipe ashes or throw away your cigar or cigarette stump where there is nothing to catch fire.
3. Don't build a camp fire any larger than is absolutely necessary. Never leave it even for a short time without putting it OUT with water or dirt.
4. Don't build a camp fire against a tree or a log. Build a small one where you can scrape away the needles, leaves or grass from all sides of it.
5. If you discover a fire, put it out if possible; if you can't put it out, get word to the nearest U. S. forest ranger or state fire warden just as quickly as you possibly can.

GLAD TO BE HOME

C. W. Brunson returned home Saturday from a trip of several weeks through the east. Besides making a stop at his old home in Quincy, Ill., he visited Detroit and other big auto manufacturing centers where he reports business to be booming. Other manufacturing lines he reports to be slack. He closed contracts for state agencies for the Auxiliary Carburator in Missouri and Illinois.

Throughout his travels Mr. Brunson found manifestations of keen interest in the expositions. Everybody wanted to know about Los Angeles and train and boat service between that city and the two expositions. Apparently the east expects to take in this part of the state, as well as the big show. Santa Fe agents he reported to be particularly strong on the booster stuff for Southern California, invariably offering to attach a Los Angeles coupon to tickets sold to San Francisco.

As far east as the Missouri river Mr. Brunson reports crop conditions to be excellent. Further east he says the season has been too dry for big crops and some sections hard hit by drought.

AIDS WAR SUFFERERS

Mrs. Anita Baldwin McLaughry, daughter of "Lucky" Baldwin, who is now in Paris, decided to give up all thought of laying in a store of "feminine vanities," as she termed them, in the French capital, and used the money instead as a donation to those upon whom misfortune has descended because of the war.

The owner of "Anokla," just south of Sierra Madre, gave $5000 to the American committee looking after the interests of stranded Americans, and also gave $2500 to a fund for French women and children who are suffering because of the departure of their husbands and fathers for the front. She said she did not think it right to spend money in gratifying her vanity when it could be used to so much better advantage in this time of stress.

THRIFT.

Thrift does not require superior courage nor superior intellect nor any superhuman virtue. . . . It needs no fervent resolution, but only a little patient self denial. Begin it's device! The more the habit of thrift is practiced the easier it becomes.—Samuel Smiles.

HOW CHAMBERS HAS MADE GOOD

John S. Chambers is conceded by all who know of his work as State Controller to have made good in every respect. Few people know much of the controller's duties and some facts concerning Mr. Chambers and his work may be interesting.

The controller's office is ministerial in character. People have regarded it as non-partisan. Colgan and Nye were given Republican and Democratic support right along. Republican, Democrat, Progressive and Independent papers have given generous support to Chambers on the theory that he has made good and is a competent successor to the controllers who preceded him.

While the controller's office proper is a great auditing department, the controller himself must be a man of executive ability, one of good judgment, a man who can decide legal and other important questions. Accountants and clerks can be hired. The controller has bigger things to do.

Beyond the auditing department, the controller has under him the inheritance tax department, the land redemption department, the corporation franchise department and, ex-officio, is a member of the state board of equalization.

In addition, he is a member of the commission consisting, besides himself, of the governor and state treasurer, which passes upon loans of state money to banks and the value of the securities they submit as collateral.

Also the controller must certify the bonds of such irrigation districts as have been approved by a commission that is charged with the duty of passing upon the legal and physical issues involved.

As a member of the state board of equalization, which levies state taxes, the controller is not only charged with all the powers and duties pertaining to any of the other members, but in addition is looked to by the legislature, men of finance and the public for suggestions, comment and counsel. He is expected to watch the revenue and the outgo, to sound a warning when expenditures increase too rapidly, to advise what to do where needed revenue can be obtained and to protect the treasury.

The inheritance tax department is a very important one, especially now that the present state tax system may prove inadequate to produce sufficient revenue after this fiscal year.

During the three preceding fiscal years, the annual revenue from this source was $1,500,000. Chambers for the year ending June 30th, last, increased this nearly $1,000,000, by far the largest revenue ever derived from this source by California.

Upon taking office, he called the inheritance tax appraisers into convention and by that means and others greatly increased the efficiency of the department.

He has suggestions for amendments to the law for submission to the next legislature, which, if granted will help greatly and materially increase the revenue.

The land redemption department (land taken over for delinquent taxes) is now producing an annual revenue of over $428,000. No man knows the extent or the value of California's delinquent land, but the annual revenue will give an idea of its importance.

By articles in newspapers and by speeches, Chambers has endeavored to awaken the people in this matter. He has shown how, because of new amendments to the law, the number of new delinquencies can be materially held down and of old delinquencies reduced. This means the increased restoration of such lands to the assessment rolls and more money for state and counties. As a result of Chambers' activity in this regard there has been an awakening all along the line and the benefit is apparent.

Moreover he has denounced the abuses to which the delinquent land laws are subjected by designing persons and has shown how such practices can be stopped if the legislature will adopt his suggestions.

Chambers is now at work preparing data for a report to the next legislature on the work of his office during the past two fiscal years and making suggestions as to future legislation.

Also, he is gathering data as to sources of revenue enjoyed by other states in addition to a tax on general property or corporations, that he can discuss with the coming legislature what can be done toward raising needed money by the state.

Making a Machinist.

To learn a trade in a machine shop a boy must spend three or four years as an apprentice and then more years as a journeyman before he comes into his own. Only two years need be spent in learning grinding; under modern conditions the work is safe and healthy, and the pay for a proficient operator is excellent.—American Machinist.

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Helen Seeley entertained about twenty of her friends with a little party in honor of the anniversary of her birthday. All kinds of games were enjoyed in the yard and at six o'clock a delicious dinner was served.

JUDGE SHENK'S FINE RECORD

Among the many candidates for judge of the superior court are a few who appear sure of election, and among the latter is John W. Shenk, judge of Department 7, who has a splendid record as a public servant, especially in the office he now holds, coupled with his recognized ability as a lawyer.

Judge Shenk is one of the six attorneys selected by Governor Johnson last August to occupy the six newly-created departments of the superior court. Having held that office a little short of a year, it is generally conceded that he has "made good." His capacity for hard work seemingly is unlimited, and in the past year he has handled many important and involved cases.

For seven years Judge Shenk served the city of Los Angeles in the city attorney's office, entering as a deputy in 1906, becoming assistant two years later. He was appointed by the city council to fill the vacancy in August, 1910. He succeeded himself the following year, carrying the election by a handsome majority.

During the seven years he spent in the city attorney's office Judge Shenk handled many important cases and the involved and important detail work of the office. Perhaps the most important litigation in which Judge Shenk participated while in the office of the city attorney, from a statewide standpoint, was the injunction brought by the Sunset Telegraph and Telephone company against the city of Pomona to enjoin the city from interfering with the right claimed by the company to occupy the streets without getting a franchise therefrom from the city government. The city won in the lower courts but the United States circuit court of appeal held that pole line companies had the right to use the streets of a municipality without a franchise. On account of the importance of the issue involved, the city council of Los Angeles authorized Judge Shenk to carry the case, on behalf of the city of Pomona, to the supreme court of the United States. There the ruling of the circuit court of appeal was reversed, and today, thanks to the able work of Judge Shenk, every pole line company in the state has to secure a franchise before it can string its wires in any city in California.

Judge Shenk is forty years of age, and a native of Vermont. He passed his boyhood days on a farm near Omaha. He is a graduate of the Ohio Wesleyan university and later took his law course in the University of Michigan Law School. His studies at the university were interrupted by a year's service in an Ohio volunteer regiment in the war with Spain. He was with General Miles' army in the occupation of Porto Rico.

Origin of Editorials.

May 12 seems an important anniversary for the newspaper world, because some consider that on this date, in 1791, the London Chronicle first brought into being the leading article. It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to their principles, had decided in favor of Mr. Fox as the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery" and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Chronicle where leading articles afterward appeared and for that reason is reckoned the forerunner of editorial comments on topics of the day.

Ancient Music.

Exploration in Bible lands has led to the discovery of a wealth of materials throwing light upon the arts and crafts which are referred to in the Old Testament. The discoveries relating to music have a charm all their own, and excavations at Nippur show, among other things, a shepherd of 6,000 years ago sitting on the grass with a lamb on one side of him and his dog on the other, lazily plucking at the strings of a leather covered lute. Professor Garstang unearthed three actual instruments of Beni Hassan—a large harp, a pair of long reed flutes and a timber drum—all found in tombs dated between the age of Abraham and that of Moses.

Miss Avis Preston leaves Saturday for Riverside where she will spend a week visiting friends.

SHIPPING BY CANAL

The News Printery has received the bill of lading for a shipment of stationery to come from Boston by way of the Panama canal. Probably it will be the first merchandise to come through the canal and billed directly to Sierra Madre. The shipment is handled by the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co., whose steamer "Missourian" will be the first of their fleet to come through the canal. The rate on the shipment affords interesting comparison with railroad rates, being only $1 per 100 pounds, less than half the rates prevailing by rail.

Contents of the shipment are the most interesting feature. The entire lot, weighing 1150 pounds, consists of goods from the Samuel Ward Manufacturing Co. This firm is one of the oldest and largest in the stationery trade, making paper and blank books of every description. They sell direct to the retailer, making it possible to deliver goods of the very highest class to the consumer at prices that are astonishingly low. The News Printery will have the exclusive sale of these goods in Sierra Madre and about the first of October will be able to make a showing of stationery never before equalled here.

MR. KELSEY PASSES AWAY

Carl R. Kelsey, local agent of the Pacific Electric railway, passed away on Monday at the home of his father in Whittier. Mr. Kelsey had been in failing health for a year or two and after relinquishing his duties July 1, temporarily as he supposed, he lost ground rapidly. He grew weaker gradually and finally slept away peacefully. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at Whittier and interment took place at Forest Lawn Cemetery. Mr. Kelsey was forty years of age and a native of Illinois. He came to California twenty years ago. He had been married six years and leaves a four-year old son, Glenn, to comfort the bereaved wife and mother. When the Pacific Electric Company established the Sierra Madre office four years ago Mr. Kelsey was transferred from Covina to take charge. The heavy work connected with the passenger, freight and express business was a severe tax upon his strength, especially during the past year. He fought bravely against ill health and waning strength, never giving up though he was compelled to carry his books home for night work. To those who knew something of the handicap under which he labored the wonder was that he could be as accommodating as he was. Mr. Kelsey was an ardent lover of outdoor life, especially of fishing and hunting in the remote mountain regions. He was clean, square and kindly in spirit and will be sincerely mourned by many friends as well as by those bound to him by closer ties.

Pride is not the heritage of man. Humility should dwell with frailty and atone for ignorance, error and imperfection.

MUNICIPAL TAX
RATE OF $1.70
IS PROPOSED

Sierra Madre's tax rate will be $1.70 on each $100 of valuation for the coming year as the result of action taken last night by the city trustees. A resolution was adopted directing the city attorney to draw up the formal ordinance placing the rate at that figure. It is probable that the levy will be distributed to the different funds about like this: General fund, 67 cents; library fund, 10 cents, and the balance to the water bond funds.

On account of the change in tax collection system the city taxes will be payable in two installments like county taxes this year. City taxes will be included on the tax statements issued by the county tax collector and will be payable to him, saving taxpayers the bother of paying taxes in two separate places.

Will Relay Pipes

Resolutions were passed ordering the improvement of South Hermosa Avenue and of North Adams Street in accordance with ordinances of intention adopted some weeks since. Notices inviting bids on the work are published in this week's News.

Owing to the fact that the four-inch water main on Hermosa Avenue has been in service 28 years the water committee recommended that it be renewed before the improvement of the street to avoid the necessity of tearing up the paving to repair the old pipe as would soon be necessary. The board voted to do this according to specifications drawn up by Water Superintendent Biederman. About an hour was consumed in debating whether there should be five gates as recommended by Mr. Biederman or only one at the head of the street. Trustee Steinberger said five gates would be useless extravagance and if he could not save the taxpayers some money now and then he would quit. Mr. Biederman said the five gates would be necessary according to the best water works practice for most efficient control of the water circulation and was corroborated by Engineer Bixby who said the $50 expense would be amply justified. The board finally adopted the superintendent's plans and voted to call for bids on the work.

Will Have Fire Hydrant

Some measure of fire protection is at last to be provided for the business section. It was voted to run a six-inch extension from the Central Avenue main to a point near the upper end of the Pacific Electric station triangle, where a fire plug will be placed with two outlets.

Sierra Madre 13, South Wests 1

Sierra Madre won its last game of the Southern Association, clinching second place, by walloping the South Wests by a score of 13 to 1. Commencing next Sunday with the Los Angeles Tigers the local boys will play independent ball, assuring better games in the future.

Beating the Bakers.

"Oh, I am almost tired to death!" said the woman who spends half her time addressing club meetings. "Our political economy club has been in session all day passing resolutions and drawing up petitions demanding a law regulating the price of bread. Only think! Three dollars' worth of flour costs, when baked into bread, $13. It's outrageous. We'll soon all be bankrupt. The bankers must be made to feel the power of the law. You should have been at the meeting."

"I couldn't come. I was too busy," said the calm faced woman.

"Busy on a club day? What at?"

"Baking bread," said the calm faced woman.—New York Times.

DR. THORNE IS WARMLY INDORSED

To the Voters of Supervisorial District No. 1:

We, the undersigned, have known Dr. E. J. Thorne personally for from one to five years and do heartily endorse him for the office of supervisor.

He is a man of superior qualifications both from the standpoint of character and experience.

We know him to be a man of integrity, quick discernment and good judgment; a man not afraid to work unselfishly for the interests of others, and not afraid to express his honest opinion. We know he is the type of man this district needs as its supervisor, a man who will get out and see the needs of his constituents and see that they have their just dues. He will work for our rights and welfare and for the best interests of the county. He presents a rare combination of theoretical knowledge, of good government as well as practical experience in local improvement and inter-city commission work. He has lived twenty-six years in this county and more than five years in his present home. He is one of us.—J. F. Jourdan, Joseph Jourdan, C. Morris Johnston, Ralph White, A. Haffner, R. Reed, J. W. Lohr, John A. Malcom, R. L. Morse, Henry Lapham, Peter E. Johnston, Frank H. Greenwood, Everett Nevins, Theo. Schweikey, Charles E. Greenwood, Lewis N. Nichols, Mrs. E. M. Bardsley, Mrs. N. L. Lapham, C. F. M. Stone, J. M. Chandler, F. H. Disbrow, Anna Courson, Bertha V. Hartzell, John M. Lane, W. R. Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meader, Morton C. Hartzell and many others.

EXERPTS FROM SPEECHES MADE BY DR. THORNE

"We have a county charter. Disloyalty to it is disloyalty to the people who chose to govern themselves by it and so voted by a large majority."

"When they want a change in the charter, they will say so and vote that change."

"This county is a great business concern, chartered. It elects its business manager,—the supervisor. No small part of his duty is to go into the open market and buy or hire, if you please, the technically trained brain to do the varied work the county has on hand."

"The supervisor is not elected as a 'booster.' If he is honest, faithful and efficient, the taxpayers, his employers, will have more time, money and disposition to do the boosting themselves and will do it."

"Fads are incompatible with efficient management of a concern doing millions of dollars worth of business annually. If the highest economy is to be secured and maintained in the administration."

"Storm water control is a great problem with us in this county but not hopeless nor to be shirked. If a county-wide movement for such control is ever undertaken every step from the initial 'boost' to the selling of the last bond and turning of the last shovelful of dirt must be carefully scanned and rigid economy exercised in the handling of the fund. If possible the bonds should be of such small denomination as to encourage our own folk to invest their savings in them, thus paying back the interest from them, into our own pockets and working a very considerable reduction in the total cost of work done. This is the part of good business management."

"Bonded indebtedness probably should be incurred only by a two to one vote. It is serious business, usually reaching far into future years and requires earnest, careful thought."

"The county has a right to stipulate how it will pay its officers and employees. When such stipulation is legally enacted said officers and employees should live up to it or get out."

"Good government is a matter of loyalty to the laws made and provided for the guidance and control of those to be governed, of devising new and better laws with the consent of the governed and of character in the person of the administrator."

SPECIAL FITNESS IS CLAIMED FOR COBB

Mr. Edward S. Cobb, whose candidacy for the office of supervisor of the first district is receiving the hearty and enthusiastic support of the citizens in every section, is making his campaign solely on the ground that his special training fits him to perform the duties of the office.

There are certain specific and well defined duties devolving upon the members of the Board of Supervisors. The question for the voter to determine is which of the many aspirants for the office can best be trusted to perform those duties.

The scientific construction of roads and bridges, the erection and maintenance and repair of county buildings, and the inauguration of business and economic efficiency in all of the county's affairs are matters toward which the Board of Supervisors must direct their attention.

Perhaps the problem which at the present moment is most widely discussed, and of the greatest immediate urgency, is that of flood water control. This is a question of engineering.

Mr. Cobb is not only thoroughly educated in the science of engineering, having graduated from Worcester Polytechnic and having occupied the chair of mechanical and construction engineering in Rose Polytechnic Institute for six years, but he has had thirty years of practical experience, during which time he has supervised the construction of some of the largest works in the west. He is a doer of things, a man of action, rather than a theorist. The thing which has made his career such a marked success is the fact that he has been able to produce efficiency and economy in the carrying out of the many large undertakings which he has conducted. He has been able to produce results.

Mr. Cobb's support comes from the people of the first supervisorial district of Los Angeles County who have studied the situation, and who feel that the county is entitled to the services of a man proven by his record to be able to act with the highest degree of intelligence upon the problems, and who will vigorously set about to do the things which demand action. Mr. Cobb was not brought forward, and is not supported, by any special interest or influence inside or outside of the first supervisorial district, and if successful in his campaign will owe his election solely to the fact that the people all over the district choose him as their representative, and will be free to serve all of the people in every section of the district with equal justice and without fear or favor.

Strictly Logical.

Professor Sudbury, who was extremely nearsighted, went to the barber's, sat down and allowed himself to be shaved. When the artist was done with him he did not move, and for awhile nobody disturbed him. But other customers began to arrive, and the chair was needed. The head barber, suspecting that his learned patron had fallen asleep, asked his boy to wake him. The professor heard him.

"No, my good man," he said, "I am not asleep. The fact is I am frightfully nearsighted. When I took my glasses off just now I was no longer able to see myself in the mirror opposite. Naturally I supposed I had already gone home."—New York Post.

The Slow One.

"Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?"

She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken she replied:

"Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

The Genius.

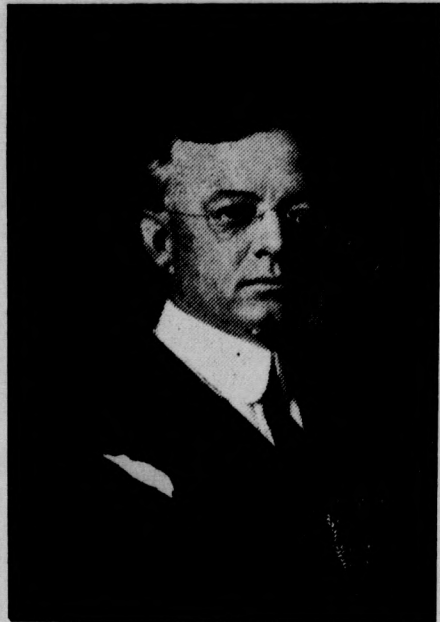

Mark Twain on one occasion said of genius:

"A genius, as an old lady in Hannibal once explained to me, is a man what knows more'n he can find out and spills vittels on his clothes."

JOYCE FOR SHERIFFWILLIAM H. JOYCE

The non-partisan candidate for sheriff.

PLATFORM

To conduct the office of Sheriff in a strictly business-like manner.

To surrender to the county treasurer all fees collected by the office and to expect no compensation except the salary provided by law.

To recommend and urge that all prisoners be fed by the county at cost and without extra profit to the Sheriff or his office.

To exercise the greatest care and to be absolutely non-partisan in the selection and appointment of deputies, constables and special deputies.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting held in Symphony Hall, Monday afternoon, August 3d, Mr. Joyce pledged himself to the above platform, if elected.

For many years he was manager of the Globe Grain and Milling Company. Since that time he has been engaged principally in the investment and general brokerage business. Mr. Joyce was chairman of the executive committee which organized the Traffic Bureau and was foremost in the fight for the abrogation of railroad switching charges in California. This case was recently won in the United States Supreme Court and means a saving of $1,000,000 a year to the state and $300,000 a year to Los Angeles alone.

Mr. Joyce is a native of Texas, 46 years of age, married and has five children. He has lived in Los Angeles county twenty years and, through his active interest in various civic and commercial organizations, has done his full share towards the upbuilding of Los Angeles county and Southern California.

Mr. Joyce is intensely interested in the problem of the juvenile offenders, many of whom are arraigned for the first time. He believes that a large percentage of such boys and girls are not naturally vicious and if the proper solution could be found for their treatment, many of them could be reclaimed. If elected, Mr. Joyce proposes to set himself to work in an endeavor to solve this problem.

The office of sheriff is strictly non-partisan and regardless of how you are registered, you can vote for Mr. Joyce at the primaries.

You need but will and it is done, but if you relax your efforts you will be ruined, for ruin and recovery are both from within.—Epictetus.
